IMPORTANT INFORMATION — PLEASE READ BEFORE DESIGNATING A BENEFICIARY

1. SURVIVORSHIP BENEFITS FOR THE MEMBER'S SPOUSE/DOMESTIC PARTNER

If you (the LACERS Member) have worked for the City for at least five years and die before retirement, your surviving spouse or domestic partner may be eligible for a lifetime monthly pension. This is a very valuable benefit because a survivorship pension gives your spouse/domestic partner a lifetime income. Your spouse/domestic partner is not automatically entitled to a lifetime survivorship benefit if you die while still employed.

Your spouse may qualify for survivorship benefits (a lifetime monthly pension) only if:

- A. Your spouse is your designated beneficiary for all your contributions; or
- B. You have no designated beneficiary on file, in which case your spouse would receive all your contributions if you die.

Your domestic partner may qualify for survivorship benefits (a lifetime monthly pension) only if:

- A. Your domestic partnership form is on file with LACERS and satisfies LACERS requirements; and
- B. Your domestic partner is your designated beneficiary for all your contributions.

If you want your spouse/domestic partner to have the financial protection of a lifetime pension, it is very important that you keep your beneficiary designation up to date. If you designate anyone else to receive any of your contributions, your spouse/partner loses the right to receive a lifetime survivorship pension upon your death. If your marital or partnership status changes, this does not change your beneficiary designation on file with LACERS. Only you (the LACERS Member) can change your beneficiary designation.

2. COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAW

When you (the LACERS Member) are married, your spouse acquires a community property interest in your contributions with LACERS. If you choose to designate someone other than your spouse as a beneficiary for your LACERS contributions (which disqualifies your spouse from receiving a lifetime pension in the event you die before retirement - see above), your designation is only good for your share of your contributions unless your spouse consents in writing that his/her share is also to be paid to your designated beneficiary.

Your spouse does not have to consent to your designation. If your spouse does not consent, then your spouse would be paid his/her community share in the event of your death. If your spouse signs consenting to your designation of someone else to receive your contributions, this means that if you die your spouse will receive no lifetime pension and no contributions. You and your spouse both need to be fully aware of the financial benefits that your spouse will lose, should you die before retirement, if you designate someone other than your spouse to get any of the contributions and if your spouse consents to this designation.

Please call LACERS at (800) 779-8328 if you would like to obtain a LACERS Spousal Consent to Designation of Beneficiary form or if you have any questions.
